The Dripping Springs United Methodist Church is a thriving Christian community. With life comes growth. Although growth is a good problem, it's a problem that needs addressing. Across the board every ministry area is stretched for space. By meeting with 14 different groups in order to understand the church's needs, Architecture 365 has pulled together this eclectic congregation's expansion into a two phase master plan. Phase I will provide much needed classroom space, a gymnasium and a new contemporary worship space. Phase II will provide a new sanctuary to seat 800.
