

STONEBRIDGE YOUTH BARN

Location	The Woodlands, TX
Project Type	Religious / Recreational
Year	2003
Size	6,944 SF
Client	Stonebridge Church

While waiting on the construction of the Phase I portion of their campus plan, the Stonebridge Church Youth Ministry needed immediate space in which to meet. The church had already acquired a beautiful site, and creating an on-site worship and recreation building would not only provide much needed gathering space, but would quickly put the church's new found land to good use. The design goal was to create an edgy, industrial, chic place just for the youth. Using pre-engineered metal building technology and "off-the-shelf" materials, the resulting building was funky yet affordable.
